Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 17 April 2006.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 4/17/06 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Art Unit: 3761

4. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fabbri et al. USPN 6114017. Fabbri describes a nonwoven meltblown web comprising fine thermoplastic filaments having a denier less than 1000 nanometers (col. 1, lines 39-51; col. 3, lines 61-67). Fabbri does not specifically recite the components of a disposable absorbent article. However, Fabbri does disclose the web is used in diaper, feminine hygiene products, medical, and protective garments (Abstract; col. 1, lines 13-15). It is old and well known in the art that a diaper comprises an absorbent core, a liquid pervious topsheet, and a liquid impervious backsheet. Fabbri discloses the nonwoven is used with is used with in a multi-layer laminate, one combination of layers being a spunbond web applied to both sides of the nonwoven (col. 7, line 66 through col. 8, line 5).

Fabbri does not specifically disclose the nonwoven compound as a breathable backsheet or leg cuff. However, Fabbri discloses the nonwoven compound has excellent liquid barrier properties (col. 4, lines 14-17). Fabbri teaches the nonwoven compound has high opacity, good strength and good coverage (col. 1, lines 15-25). These characteristics are desirable in backsheets and leg cuffs in diapers. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the nonwoven compound of Fabbri in a backsheet or leg cuff in a diaper. Doing so would provide desired liquid barrier properties to the absorbent article.
